EDUCATIONAL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL STARS OUTDO THEMSELVES IN CLOSING PERFORMANCE

By Walt. Le Noir Church
"The third time's the charm."
That is what it was in the G. U. H. S. last night. And those initials should stand just as they are. No, do not transpose the H and the S. The audience was the largest and most enthusiastic. The players had forgotten their previous self-consciousness, and entered more than ever into the spirit of their parts. The orchestra was more on its mettle, from big bass fiddle to tinny covey fife, and the Girls' Glee Club covered itself with glory as well as with the most charming touches of color, making the stage look like an animated bouquet of living, moving, laughing and singing flowers, largely of the black pansy variety, illuminated by leaves made from a hundred rainbows.

The dreamer, designer and definer of that exquisite color scheme must be a kindred spirit to the Old Master, Tintoretto, himself. But that wondrous color-wizard was not aided by the witchery of electric lights such as those two young magicians of the switch lens and tints, turned on and manipulated last night. My hat off to them. At their ages Edison himself had not accomplished as much as have Harold Nye and Paul Williams. So Glendale will expect great things from them. "Wasn't that river scene beautiful?" "Like Fairyland!" Such exclamations of delight were heard even on the streets.

Much more of the success of such an enterprise depends upon the boys who assisted behind the scenes, than they usually get credit for. In this instance they worked hard and faithfully, contributing much to the ultimate results that were so pleasing to the public. They are the four Fs, Wilson, Tullar, Butts and Gray, the two Hs, Morgan and McGillis, with one L, Kepler, and one R, Paine.

The committee in charge, who brought such delightful order out of chaos, are William Rees, business manager; Helen Harden, advertising manager; Walter Beach, concessions; Kathryn Coates, posters and general work; Mildred Wight general work; Lehman Crandall, stage props; A. L. Ferguson, chairman. For their fruits, we honor them.

What would the others have done without the homely, domestic aid of the Sewing Department? Three cheers for manual training in our public schools. May it grow like Jack's magic beanstalk, giving many a needy boy and girl the means to climb up to unknown regions of success, where are magic harps and wealth galore.

That old Black Mammy in the Girls' Glee Club's "Touch of Color," too lame to walk, but never too miserable to sing, suggested one well known to the writer away down in the land of cotton, particularly when all that multitudinous motley of younger generations came trooping in joyously greeting "Ole Mammy."

The one referred to had thirty-one children. "Jes' one fur ev'ry day in the month," she boasted, when proudly exhibiting her crowning effort. Imagine what a village her descendants made in the third and fourth generation, and she still alive and adding to the second. So in that clever bit of negro life last night, all the others might have been "Jes' part uv muh fambly, Sah," as one told me in Arkansas, when I asked her if she was having a Sunday School picnic. But it was so true to life, some one with a black mask on must have been mistaken in saying that no Southern girls were in that play. Ha! Ha! Yes? Nein! Gar nicht. But, as a lady said it, of course I shall believe it—till Gabriel blows his horn—which will be the signal for promptly changing many an opinion.

It has just been discovered that there is an occult meaning to the letters used, instead of figures, to designate the twelve numbers on the program. "Seeing is believing." Well, take a look. Admirable Overture; Bully, The Tumbling Trio; Capital, The Four Winds; Dear, Gossip (and gossipers); Elegant, Monologue; Fine and Dandy, Down Hawaii Way; Great, "Songs of the Nation"; Hilarious, Farce; Inspired, Piano Solo; Japanese, "The Dragon's Eye"; Kentucky, A Touch of Color; Lovely, "Independence." Were there an M, it would mean Masterly, and refer to Mrs. Gibson's orchestral and other training work. May the inventors of those secret signs and tokens forgive me for giving them away.

Now, to THE VARIETY SHOW, Hail and Farewell!
May the next one be as good! Yet, with such growing talent and organization it is bound to be better. So mote it be!

CURRENT NEWS

PROMINENT ILLINOISANS HERE—GLENDALE VISITED BY GENTLE SHOWERS

Major Robert Mann Woods and Col. Chas. E. Cox, both hyphenated Illinois-California citizens, are playing the California end at present, dodging the wintry blasts prevailing in Chicago. These gentlemen hark back to ante-war times in Illinois and were not passive in the stirring political and military events born with the election of Lincoln in 1860. Their visits to the coast are frequent and Major Woods has often addressed soldier and civic organizations here and was one of the speakers at the Illinois-Lincoln celebration at Long Beach last Monday. Col. Cox is a well-known figure in Illinois affairs, and conventions and legislative assemblies all know or soon will know him, a genial, well-posted citizen. The well-known banker and financier of New York, Vanderlip, broke into the Cox family for his wife, which draws Mr. Cox to the East a part of the time. These gentlemen are well pleased with beautiful Glendale, to which point they frequently come, not failing to call upon their oldtime Illinois friend, Samuel Parker, 417 Brand boulevard, and review events belonging to a half century acquaintance.

MRS. RUSSELL ENTERTAINS

Mrs. M. S. Russell entertained informally a number of friends at her home, 315 South Central avenue, Thursday afternoon, and a most enjoyable time was had. The decorations throughout the house were of the lovely yellow acacia. Mrs. Gladys Gibbs Sherman gave a short, much appreciated talk on Cadman, our American composer, who lives in Los Angeles, and sang some beautiful selections, accompanied on the piano by her gifted mother, Mrs. Gibbs. Miss Salyer also gave a vocal selection which was greatly enjoyed. The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Mulvihill, served a dainty menu during the afternoon. Those invited were Mesdames Myers, McClellan, Evans, Neighbors, Hitchcock, Ried, Schremp, Mosher, Sawyer, Kellogg, Jenkins, Blachley, Gibbs, Salyer, Walker, Kull and Sherman and Misses Salyer and Miller.

HORSESHOE CLUB NOTES

Saturday, the 24th, Captain Head will take his fighting squad to Long Beach with his long suit (including long shoes) and play the Beachites 50 games with ten men to a side. Boys, remember the Ma—(Pomona). Come, Glendale fans, turn out. Go with the boys. Root for them, Glendale and America. We will have an auto truck for the occasion, 50 cents round trip, if we can secure 17 fares. Will you go? Leave word on the home grounds not later than Friday the 23d.

Last week Keim reported a case of cementus (rheumatis). Now comes Croy with a case of railroaditis (conductor on S. P. R. R.). It is very similar to Keim's cementus. These two high and slide pitch artists can't see how it is possible that the game still goes on each afternoon just as usual, with them on a vacation. Such is life.

If Spencer, Holman, Toman and Lang keep up their present pace, we will have to move them to the front, so you experts had better take notice.

Porter can use a few medium-sized kick cans. Labels on the cans not necessary.

Grand Prize: A bag (small) of peanuts to the team winning most games at Long Beach contest. Get Busy. Yours,

Fan W. H. NICOLAS.

WEATHER FORECAST—Unsettled weather. Probably rain to-night and Sunday. Westerly winds.

PAPER MANUFACTURERS COME TO TERMS

CORPORATIONS SUGGEST THAT FEDERAL TRADES COMMISSION ARBITRATE PRICES AND DISTRIBUTION

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—It was learned to-day that the administration's threat to "take national emergency measures" unless the paper manufacturers reached terms with the publishers caused the manufacturers to suggest that the federal trades commission arbitrate prices and distribution. Secretary McAdoo delivered this ultimatum to one of the biggest paper manufacturers of the country, stating that since the government itself is prohibited from interfering with the freedom of the press it is obviously unlawful for corporations to do so. He intimated that Wilson would have a drastic law making it possible for the government to take over all the biggest manufactures of all commodities in case of war, rushed through Congress unless a change was made.

GUICE IN EARNEST

GIVES A MESSAGE STRAIGHT FROM THE SHOULDER TO CHURCH PEOPLE

There was a good congregation at the First Methodist church last night to hear Mr. Guice preach. His message last Wednesday had prepared the people for a direct, forceful message. Speaking from the words, "Wilt thou not revive us again that thy people may rejoice," he showed the need of an awakened church and vitally religious church members. Some Guiceisms: "Lots of church people congratulate themselves that they are so good and nice. The pastor of a big church said: 'We don't need revivals, or to be so aggressive as our fathers; the world has come near to the standards of the church.' Too many church members have come down to the world. I have yet to find a community which does not apologize for itself by saying: 'We are unique, and different and peculiar.' Unusual people from unusual places all flocking to California, make California very unusual. There are more church members in the picture shows on Wednesday nights than are in the prayer meetings."

"Education is a mania. But the lack of religion in education emphasizes need of revival. The Bible ought to be in the public school, but some teachers have no business trying to teach the Bible. In a high school in Northern California the boys and girls dance from 8:15 to 9 o'clock in the morning unchaperoned."

"The business engrossment of men emphasizes the need of a revival. Some men excuse themselves from leading men to God by saying that they pay the preacher to do that. I did not ask about your neighbor needing awakening. Do you?"

Mr. Snudden will preach at the Sunday morning service. Mr. Guice will preach on Sunday evening.

PASADENA SUGGESTS CONSOLIDATION

The possible consolidation of South Pasadena and Alhambra with Pasadena should Los Angeles press its claims too closely for the annexation of the three cities mentioned in the interest of a Greater Los Angeles, has been talked of in the past few years. Now that Pasadena is about to frame up a new charter, that city has invited South Pasadena to join with it in drafting the charter with a view to making its provisions cover both cities in case of consolidation. The Pasadena Star-News, in a recent editorial, says:

"Timely and proper is the invitation from the city commissioners of Pasadena to South Pasadena trustees to name a committee to sit in advisory capacity with the board of freeholders while a new charter is being formulated for this city. The purpose, of course, is to lay the foundations for future consolidation of the two cities, should the people of South Pasadena desire to merge with Pasadena."

"Pasadena has been and is willing to have this consolidation effected. South Pasadena, geographically part of this city and as much like Pasadena in ideals as two peas in a pod resemble each other, would be warmly welcomed, should its people want to become an integral part of a Greater Pasadena."

"The invitation from Pasadena's City Commission will give the official representatives of South Pasadena opportunity to indicate the measure of interest felt by South Pasadenans in a possible uniting of the two municipalities. Pasadenans hope that the invitation will be received in the spirit in which it is extended and that a committee from the sister city will be named to confer with Pasadena's freeholders and give the benefit of their advice as to the nature of the charter as it would affect an expanded municipality including—if their people so desire—both South Pasadena and Alhambra."

WAR ON TRADING STAMPS

Jared Wenger represented Glendale at the dinner given at the Greenleaf hotel in Whittier Tuesday evening in honor of the members of the Association of Secretaries of Business Men's associations of the Southland. Secretary Haig of the Merchants Bureau of the Whittier Chamber of Commerce was the toastmaster and in addition to the guests there were a number of Whittier merchants present. During the afternoon conference mercantile legislation pending before the present legislature was discussed. By motion each secretary was directed to take up the proposition of the "green trading stamp" legislation now pending, with his own organization and urge his legislators to favor the bill making the trading stamp illegal.

NEW OFFICIAL BUSY

AN INFORMAL REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

February 15th the following letter was received:
"Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County.
Los Angeles, Feb. 14, 1917.
"Secretary Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, California.
Dear Sir:

"We are having returned from San Diego a very large quantity of materials that were used in the exhibit at the exposition. You will recall that we have a very fine exhibit of fruits and other products of Los Angeles County."

"The thought occurred to me that your Chamber might desire to exhibit a certain quantity of these articles and place the same on display. Should you be in position to make a suitable display of these items, I feel sure that the same can be placed at the disposal of your Chamber."

"Prompt action is necessary, for the goods are now being shipped to this city, and will have to be stored or otherwise disposed of without delay."

Yours very truly,

JONATHAN S. DODGE,
Supervisor, Fifth District."

On Friday I went to see Supervisor Dodge at Los Angeles, and was told by him what to do in order to see what part of that returned material would be at our disposal. The matter will come up before the Board on Monday, and the desired information will probably be received here soon afterward.

While in Los Angeles I met the secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Wiggins, and his assistant secretary, Mr. A. S. Dudley, who resides at 1209 Lomita avenue, Glendale. Both expressed a deep interest in Glendale, and said they would do all in their power to further her interests. They asked for more literature about Glendale, saying there were many inquiries for it, but none to give, as the supply was exhausted. Mrs. P. L. O'Neill, in charge of the literature distribution counter, has friends in Glendale and said she could send many tourists here if she had literature to distribute.

Mr. W. M. Irwin, in charge of the San Diego exhibit in the Chamber of Commerce, frequently comes to Glendale and expects to reside here later. He lectures daily at the L. A. Chamber of Commerce and says he can and will send the many visitors to Glendale, as one of the most delightful places in Los Angeles County.

Pomona is making a good fight for her place in the sun. She has a small exhibit in the L. A. Chamber of Commerce, in charge of Mr. Charles P. Bayer, assistant secretary of Pomona Chamber of Commerce. At 3 p. m. daily he gives a Pomona illustrated lecture in the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. At very small cost the Glendale Chamber of Commerce could have an exhibit there, as I find some room is available. The Glendale literature could be kept at that exhibit, so the public could help itself, and many would doubtless come out here to see Glendale, about whose desirableness all practically agree.

I started investigation that will have us informed how a few of the personally conducted auto-buses can be induced to take in Glendale on their route.

I made arrangements with the city editor of the Herald to telephone them news, so as to have Glendale mentioned as often as may be.

An interview with Assistant General Passenger Agent Smith, of the P. E., is likely to result in the secretary of Glendale Chamber of Commerce getting transportation on the P. E. and the S. P.

The secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce invited me to attend the annual meeting of secretaries of commerce of Southern California at Rialto, Saturday, February 24, when they assemble to compare notes for mutual interest and for the general good of Southern California.

One great thing to accomplish is to get new people to come out to Glendale. When they do, a paraphrase of a well-known poem is likely to apply to them:

Glendale is a city of such pleasing mien,

That to be loved, needs only to be seen.

But seen at all, enamoured of her face,

One would live here, and in no other place.

NOW

When I have time I'll send for you
And look your proposition through.

I'm feeling now so strong and well
I don't just need the goods you sell.

So wait, yes, wait, good friend of mine,
Till I have time.

To-day the ball game starts at three.
To-night we have some friends for tea.

But some day I intend to take protection for my family's sake.
To tarry thus is not a crime,

Till I have time.
But one day he was called to rest,

And left an unprotected nest.
He does not hear the hurrying tread

Of a busy world in its fight for bread,
And now has time,
Dead loads of time.

Take no chance. Be prepared for any contingency. Talk to me frankly about your affairs.

Mrs. Colin Cable of 755 Columbus avenue entertained to-day at a charming one o'clock luncheon in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Fannie Charlton of Los Angeles.
